From the English Department:

As part of our ongoing promotion of the value of reading and its limitless benefits, students are being asked to publish the covers of a novel they have read and wish to share with others, with an endorsing statement. These posters will be displayed on our wall for other students and visitors to the school to share for Literacy and Numeracy Week.

Parents are invited to take part in this activity. It would be wonderful for parents to share a book that they read and cherished as a child (or even recently). If you would like to participate in this activity please print your poster on A4 or A5 paper, preferably in colour. You may send in as many as you like, but please place them in a plastic sleeve for protection. Could we please have any submissions to us by Friday 24 July. To the left is an example of how to present your novel.
